GENERAL MANAGER, PRODUCT AND BUSINESS UNITS, CLOUDERA

Charles joined Cloudera from SAP, where he held various management roles in product strategy, management, and operations. During his tenure at SAP, Charles led the development of a half a dozen new and follow-on releases for products that supported some of SAP's major growth initiatives in GRC, sustainability, and EPM. Many of these products received substantial critical acclaim and collectively generated more than a hundred million dollars in new product revenues. Prior to SAP, Charles held product roles at BEA Systems and venture-backed software startups. Charles holds a bachelor's degree from Carleton College and an MBA from MIT.
